Ike Plans To Go To Panama City Parley July 21-22

Postpones Talks With Nehru

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower decided Monday to attend a July 21-22 Panama City conference of the American republics after a period of convalescence at his Gettysburg farm starting this weekend.

But the President, planning to check out of Walter Reed Army Hospital about Friday or Saturday, postponed talks with India's Prime Minister Nehru which had been arranged before his illness for July 7-10.

They had planned to confer at Eisenhower's secluded mountain lodge at Thurmont, Md.

The President agreed with Nehru's suggestion that he might not be sufficiently recovered in time to go ahead with the talks on schedule. On the other hand, Eisenhower concluded that he will be well enough to make the Panama trip by the end of the third week of July.

White House sources said it was "a little too early" to say whether Eisenhower would hold a news conference at Gettysburg before returning to Washington.

The Panama conference, of the Chief executives of the American republics, will commemorate liberation of several South American nations 130 years ago. It had been scheduled to start Monday with Eisenhower in attendance. The President's illness and the major

Sanity Hearing Coming Up For Teenage Killer

GENEVA, Ill. (AP) — Court action Monday paved the way for a sanity hearing for Diana Allen, who as a teenager killed her 7-year-old playmate.

The action took place in Kane County Circuit Court as Judge Roy J. Solisburg granted a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed in the girl's behalf by Herbert W. Wetzel, Chicago attorney.

The writ ordered the superintendent of the Elgin state hospital to produce the girl for a sanity hearing before a Circuit Court jury scheduled to convene Sept. 10.

Miss Allen, now 20, has been confined at the state hospital since Sept. 29, 1949. She was committed there after a Circuit Court jury acquitted her of the murder of Charles Johnson by reason of insanity.

The girl, then 13, told authorities she drowned her playmate in a drainage ditch near her Joliet home in April 1949 to satisfy what she called a "tremendous urge to kill."

Life expectancy in India is 26 years; in the United States, it is 68 years.

From his hospital room, Eisenhower Monday sent word to the Panamanian government saying the new dates suggested for the conference are all right with him and that he is "planning to go."

The decision was announced by James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

From London, where he has been attending a meeting of the British Commonwealth nations, Nehru cabled that the projected talks "should not impose an additional strain on you during your convalescence" and possibly "retard your progress to full recovery." For that reason, Nehru suggested his visit to the United States should be postponed.

In reply, the President said that while his recovery is progressing on schedule, "I cannot be entirely free of doubt as to whether my recuperation will be far enough advanced by July 7 to have the kind of talks which we both had in mind."

Under those circumstances, Eisenhower added, "I am inclined, with truly deep regret, to adopt your suggestion" for a postponement. He expressed hope the "delay will not be for long."

Hagerty announced the President will go to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa., this week end for an indefinite period of convalescence. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday.

Western sources said a NATO special meeting might have to be called to weigh the situation.

The 10-century-old republic was counting the ballots in the heaviest voting in history, a slow process especially in the Arctic Circle area. The final tally of Sunday's voting will not be known before Tuesday.

But the way the voting sized up Monday, it appeared the final count would show Prime Minister Olafur Thors' pro-American regime is doomed under the proportional representation system.

With more than 80,000 votes cast out of the eligible 98,000 men and women voters, it appeared that Thors' Independence party lost ground heavily.

The Progressives, who joined forces for the election with the Social Democrats, gained ground in their fight to get the Americans out of here in the next 18 months. But some Icelandic sources hinted Herman Jonasson, Progressive leader who engineered the March 27 Althing—Parliament—resolution calling on foreign troops to leave Iceland, would not insist on anything more than a cut in the size of the force and payment by the Americans of import duties.

The Communists, who captured the trade unions and then weaned away Hannibal Valdimarsson, Iceland's labor boss and Social Democratic leader, increased their total vote strength.

The National Defense party, which is unfriendly to both the Americans and Russians, virtually went out of existence.

The Progressive-Social Democratic alliance apparently had clinched 25 of the 52 Althing seats against Thors' 19 and the Communists' 8.

U.S. Air Officials See Faster-Than-Sound Bomber On Jeep Tour

MOSCOW (AP) — Top American and British air generals took a jeep tour of Russia's tightly guarded Kubinka Air Base Monday and were shown a new twin-engine bomber which they were told could fly faster than sound. The U. S. Air Force does not yet have a supersonic bomber.

Gen. Nathan Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff, seven of his aides and a party of British, French and other foreign military men invited to the U. S. S. R. to see its latest aviation achievements, traveled in a motorcade to the base 40 miles outside Moscow.

A party of American newsmen who tried to trail along were turned back by Russian officers 20 miles outside Moscow.

The British guests told reporters later their tour was "a child's guide to the Soviet air force."

"When we asked the range of planes we were shown we were told it was very great," the Britons said. "When we asked about the speed of a certain plane we were told very great. Nevertheless it was a valuable clue."

Twining said the new bomber they were shown was a light attack bomber probably a bit smaller than Britain's jet bomber, the B57 Canberra. However, British viewers thought it was a bit (Continued on Page Nine)

Crash, Capture Ends Chase Of Jail-Breakers

Dean Kinsell of Heyworth, who was instrumental in capturing two jailbreakers early Monday, is a brother of a local man, Wilbur (Webb) Kinsell of 519 S. Church.

PONTIAC, Ill. (AP) — Two jailbreakers have been captured by a state policeman after a hair-raising 110-m.p.h. pursuit of their car, blacked-out auto on U. S. Route 66.

The auto chase ended early this morning in the capture of two escaped robbers from Louisville, Ky., after their stolen car flew out of control on a curve, rolled over twice and skidded 65 feet broadside.

The two men escaped injury however. They surrendered to officer Dean Kinsell of Heyworth, Ill., who followed the robbers' 1951 auto north on 66 at speeds he clocked at 106 and 110 m.p.h.

During the chase one of the robbers loosened the back seat of their car and tried to toss it into the highway to wreck the pursuing police car.

In the high-speed chase the attempt was foiled by the rush of air past the open rear door of the fugitives' car.

The wind resistance prevented the door from being forced completely open, thus keeping the obstacle from flying into the path of Kinsell's car.

The man in the back of the car was able to push the seat out halfway out the door. Its metal frame bounced on the concrete, touching off sparks as the speeding car rocked from side to side.

The robbers' car went out of control after it veered to avoid a head-on collision with a truck. Kinsell said Arthur E. Penn, 29, and Jerry Powell, 21, who escaped Friday from a Louisville jail where they were awaiting arraignment on armed robbery charges.

Penn was the driver of the car they stole in Louisville and Powell the man in the back seat. Both served previous prison terms for robbery.

Kinsell said Penn and Powell were either unarmed or they threw away their weapons during the chase. He did not fire at them.

HE EXPLAINS IT THIS WAY WASHINGTON (AP) — The District of Columbia's traffic safety officer, Anthony L. Ellison, views reckless drivers this way:

"There were just as many reckless drivers 50 years ago—but in those days they drove something that had more sense than they did."

William Knowland of California, temporary chairman; Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, permanent chairman; and Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut, chairman of the resolutions committee.

Authorizes Group To Build Natural Gas Companies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Power Commission Monday authorized Texas Gas Transmission Corp., Owensboro, Ky., to build and operate natural gas facilities in Louisiana, Mississippi, Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana.

The additional facilities will cost an estimated $6,233,000 and will enable the company to increase its deliveries to existing customers by 25,602,000 cubic feet of gas a day.

The proposed gas increases would be allocated as follows: Louisville Gas and Electric Co., 20,400,000 cubic feet; West Tennessee Gas Co., 3,652,000; Gas Utilities Co., 1,020,000 and Western Kentucky Gas Co., 530,000.

Cooler Air In North Pushes Off Thunderstorms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cooler air pushed southward from the Plains to western New York Monday, touching off thunderstorms in some areas.

A siege of sticky, 90-plus degree heat continued south of the cold front.

By contrast, Fraser, Colo., one of President Eisenhower's favorite fishing spots, had a frosty overnight low of 32.

Except for showers in the Far Northwest, clear skies prevailed west of the Continental Divide.

Gusty winds felled trees and shattered windows at Republic, Mo. A roof was lifted from a building. Heavy rains at Marshfield, Mo., sent small streams over their banks.

Afternoon temperatures were 10 to 20 degrees below Sunday's levels from northern Illinois to western New York. The Northern Plains and upper New England remained relatively cool with afternoon highs in the 60s and 70s.

11-Year-Old Boy Shot; Used As Bandit's Shield

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An 11-year-old boy was shot in the back Sunday night by a bandit who used the child as a shield to make his getaway from a market, police reported.

The boy, Grant Higuchi, was reported in good condition at Kaiser Hospital Monday. He was shot near the spine on the left side and the bullet came out his left chest.

Detectors said the robber took about $500 cash.

After getting the cash the masked man grabbed the boy and left the market, warning: "Stay where you are or I'll kill the kid!"

Detectors said the market employees also were warned not to cry out or the boy would be hurt. They said apparently someone shouted as the robber was leaving and then the boy was shot.

Death Toll Of British Plane Reaches 30

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The death toll in the crash of a British airliner at Kano was officially placed at 30 Monday night. An American oil man was among the dead.

The four-engine Avrocar, bound for London, crashed in northern Nigeria Sunday night and burst into flames. An official statement said the plane "ran into a storm cloud and, for reasons not yet ascertained, lost height." It brushed treetops and struck the ground about two miles from the end of Kano runway.

The American killed was G. K. Eysaman, 32, of Mohawk, N. Y.

BRITISH JUDGE WHO Sentenced Cyprus Extremists, Shot

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Two gunmen Monday shot a British judge who had passed six death sentences on pro-Greek rebels. He was in a dangerous condition Monday night.

Justice Bernard V. Shaw, 65, suffered head and throat wounds.

The gunmen shot him while he sat between two Turkish police bodyguards in his car as it stopped for a signal light in busy Victoria Street. The assassination attempt occurred shortly after 1 p.m. in the teeming Armenian quarter of the old walled city.

The two assailants, presumed to be pro-Greek EOKA underground workers, fled as Shaw's bodyguard opened fire and pursued them. They leaped into a small car and escaped.

At Nicosia General Hospital a doctor said Shaw has a chance but emphasized that his condition was dangerous.

A Greek woman was fatally wounded by troops who cordoned off the area in a search for the gunmen. She was struck by a bullet aimed at her husband and died in a hospital later.

A tall, gaunt man whose courtroom decisions were usually rendered in quiet, caustic tone, Shaw decreed six of seven death sentences imposed since EOKA extremists began a violent campaign more than a year ago to force Britain to free the island for union with Greece. He had handed down three death sentences in the last three weeks.

EOKA leaflets distributed some time ago marked Shaw for assassination. He was then given a bodyguard and his home was protected by a barbed wire barricade.

Rizza's brother, Robert, said he hadn't seen Ralph in six months and had no knowledge of his business.

Rizza's car was first noticed Friday night. It was towed to a Crete garage Saturday, but Rizza's body was not discovered until Sunday, when police noticed bloodstains on the car.

A coroner's report said Rizza had been shot in the back, strangled with a sash cord and beaten with a blunt instrument.

Couples Price Increase To Any Steel Wage Boost

NEW YORK (AP) — A spokesman for the Big Three of the industry Monday coupled a price increase to any wage boost in steel.

"I will say, frankly, we can't afford to have a wage increase not followed by a price increase," Republic Steel's first vice president, Thomas Patton, told a press luncheon.

The industry's Big Three returned to the bargaining table earlier in the day for a final, crucial week of contract talks with the United Steelworkers of America.

The current industry contract expires at midnight Saturday, and 650,000 steelworkers have authorized a strike at that hour if the wage deadlock continued.

A strike would be the first since 1952 when the USW tied up the industry for eight weeks.

The three biggest firms in the industry have been bargaining since May 28 in an effort to reach an agreement with the USW that will serve as a pattern for eight smaller producers as well.

Documents Justice Dept. Wants May Be In Waste Can

WASHINGTON (AP) — Statements showing who gave how much to the major political parties, which the Justice Department has been seeking for "various investigations," were declared Monday night to be "not in existence."

This word came from Clerk Ralph Roberts of the House of Representatives in the wake of repeated efforts by the Justice Department to find the documents or to determine whether they still existed.

Roberts told reporters he assumed the reports filed with his office by the campaign committees were bound up and disposed of as scrap paper. This is customary procedure for papers no longer kept in "live" House files, Roberts explained.

MONEY Needed For Assurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate agreed Monday to limit debate on the huge defense bill and have a showdown vote Tuesday on whether to add more than a billion dollars to the Air Force budget.

Democratic leaders contend the extra money is needed to assure American air superiority over Russia.

The Republican leadership is fighting to hold the increase to 500 million dollars above the amount requested by President Eisenhower for the next 12 months.

After several hours of speech-making Monday, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, obtained unanimous agreement to limit the debate Tuesday, starting at 12:30 p.m.

One and a half hours were allotted for debate on the Democratic proposal to amend the House version of the defense bill by giving the Air Force the additional billion-plus for more planes, bases and airmen in the next fiscal year.

A similar amount of time was allotted for debate of the GOP compromise proposal. There will be additional three hours of debate on the whole bill before voting begins.

Officially Proclaimed President

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Gamal Abdel Nasser was officially proclaimed president of Egypt Monday with powers under a new constitution that match those of his revolutionary rule.

The 38-year-old President Nasser was feted at the Cairo Officers Club after the government announced he had won 99.9 per cent of the total vote in Saturday's election.

He told the nation in a radio speech, "Egypt is feeling its strength and knows its position in the world."

"I feel like I did on the day of our revolution four years ago. The only way we achieved this was through self-denial. During this turning point in Egyptian history, I feel great responsibilities."

The Business Outlook

It is never wise to belittle declines in any major sector of the nation's economy. But by the same token it is not sensible to exaggerate these as being general when they are not.

Right now sharp dips are occurring in automobile and farm equipment. Production actually is running below levels of 1954 when we put the label "recession" on the downward economic swing.

Especially broad effects are bound to be felt in the general economy from the fall-off in car output. But even if this were not so we should feel concern over these soft spots. Unemployment is not made more palatable because it is limited to particular fields. For those involved, it is a crisis. And we must attend to every such development, whether large or small.

Nevertheless, a wide look at today's business conditions indicates that output generally is at considerably higher levels than during the 1953-54 drop.

In a recent review, the New York Times noted that what the economists call the "gross national product," the total of all goods and services, stood at nearly 400 billion dollars annually as of this March 31. Two years ago it ranged just above 350 billion.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production this April rested at 143 per cent of the 1947-49 average. The June, 1954, mark was 124.

Business spending for new plant and personal spending are both markedly higher in 1956 than in comparable periods two years ago. And manufacturers' new orders, always a measure of business confidence, ran 27.4 billion dollars this April against 22.8 billion in June, 1954.

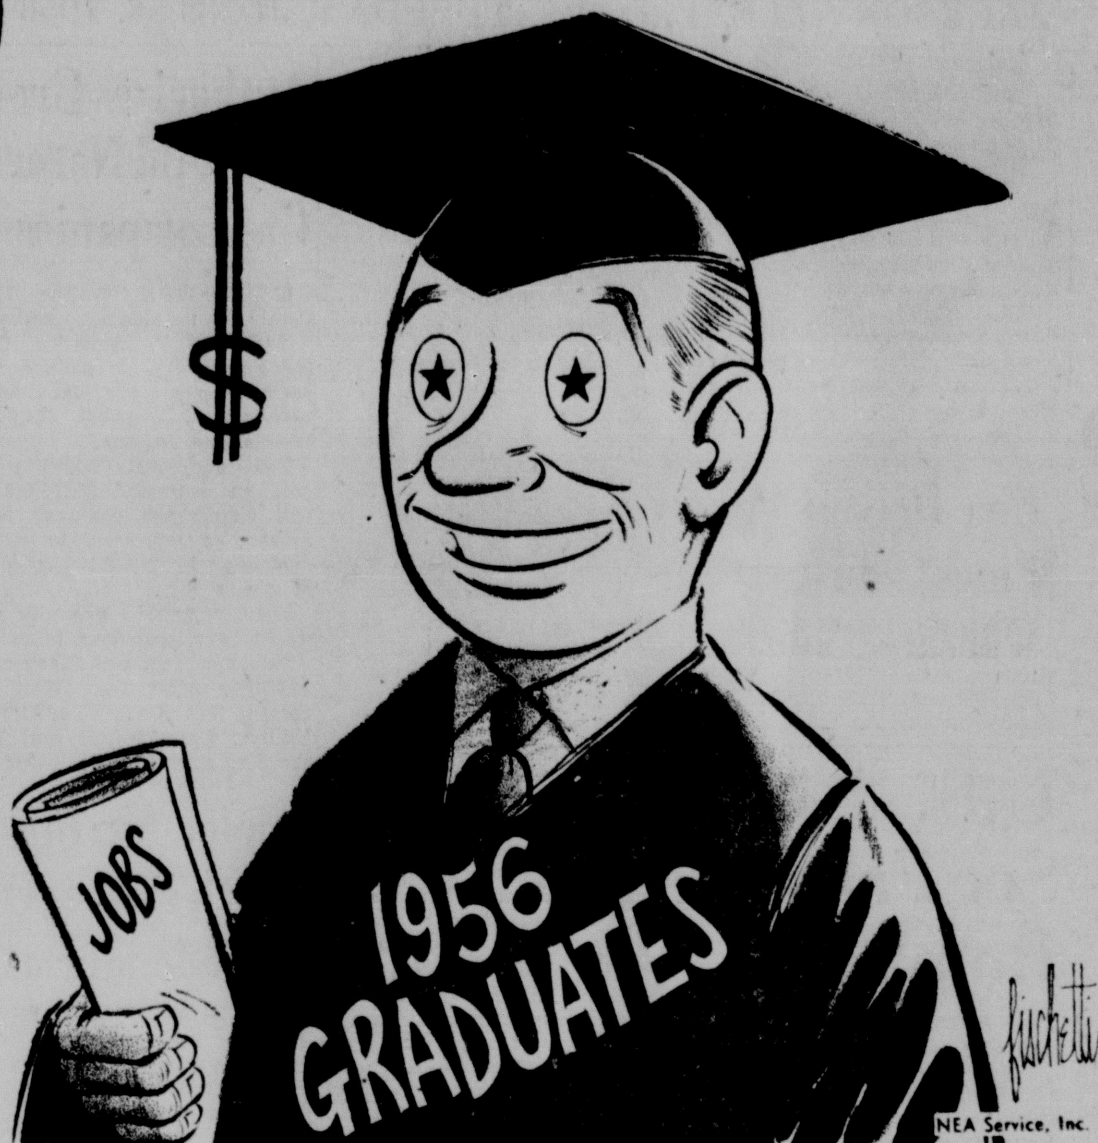

There are still other figures: employment is higher, unemployment is lower, savings are higher and average pay checks are higher.

Put the pieces together and you get a basically cheerful pattern of American economic activity. The country is busy. We are bowling along on high ground.

Again, that doesn't mean we should play down the soft spots—the sag in motors and farm machinery, the heralded slide in farm income, the bulge in consumer debt.

But, though there is uncertainty, there is no need yet to dust off the gloomy labels. The politicians may try it, but if they do they'll be pressing. The facts of the economic outlook contradict them.

Never Had It So Good

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—A London author writing a play about Jesus Christ recently wanted to find out on what day of the week the Savior had been born.

He turned for help to Hugo Dunn-Meynell, known as Britain's "Mr. Knowledge."

Dunn-Meynell is managing director of an unusual firm called "Finders Limited," which for a fee will ferret out information for a client or perform any odd job so long "as it is legal and moral."

He and his 25 assistants pored over hundreds of volumes of biblical scholarship before coming up with this answer:

"Jesus probably was born either at Wednesday or Thursday midnight, but we can't go beyond that. Internal evidence within the Bible itself makes it unlikely he could have been born on any other day of the week."

This has been the most interesting of the queries that pour into his firm at the rate of about 200 a week, but there have been many strange ones.

An American, for example, wrote and asked that a hotel bed he had slept in during a stay in London be sent to him.

"It was extremely comfortable," he explained. Finders Limited went to the hotel, bought the bed, and shipped it over.

Dunn-Meynell, who is 30, slender and wears a ginger coat, served in the royal navy and studied law before launching his unique career. It has taken him to most parts of the world, and he is now making a 13,000-mile trip around America.

His organization is geared for emergencies. Once it had to charter a car and race 35 miles to deliver a pair of forgotten false teeth to a British lady executive in time for her to make a speech to her stockholders.

It takes in stride weird requests to locate such items as an elephant's foot, a pre-revolutionary recording of the old Russian national anthem, or a nulla-nulla, which is an Australian throwing stick.

Once a horrified gentleman phoned for aid in a terrible personal dilemma. In sending some flowers he had gotten the cards mixed. The one he had sent to a funeral read "many happy returns of the day." The one he had sent to his lady friend read "with deepest sympathy." Finders Limited saved the day for him by dispatching an agent to the cemetery who changed the card before the mourners arrived.

"Our clients keep us on our toes," said Dunn-Meynell. "We never know what we'll be asked to do next."

Not long ago he had a hurry-up call from the Family Planning Assn. of Great Britain for toads, which are used in pregnancy tests.

He put an ad in "The Times" reading "300 male toads urgently needed"—and they flooded in from all parts of the English countryside.

His fees range from about 65 cents for a simple request for information up to $500 to make a market study of, say, the commercial possibilities of chocolate flavored toothpaste in Saudi Arabia.

Envoy's Death Draws U.S. Into Cyprus Controversy

Washington Correspondent
Washington (NEA)—Killing of U. S. Vice Consul William Pierce Boteler and injury of three other Americans by terrorist bombs on the island of Cyprus puts that problem in a new emphasis for the United States.

Up to now it has been largely a quarrel between Greeks and British, with the Turkish minority on Cyprus as most interested observers. There is no apparent Communist angle.

There has been some excitement over Cyprus among superpatriotic Greeks in America. Greek information offices have flooded American newspapers with propaganda for union of Cyprus with Greece. But most of it goes to the wastebasket. There are American interests on the island.

There is a copper mine operated by the Mudd interests of California. U. S. Information Agency has a broadcasting station on the island for programs beamed to the Middle East.

These activities account for the presence of the U. S. State Department mission in Nicosia city when the bombs were tossed June 16.

Proper Official Greek expressions of regret have been tendered, but that isn't enough. The Cyprus affair has now become an international issue demanding settlements before the issue is brought up in the United Nations. If the Cyprus issue is allowed to be debated there, it won't help a bit.

While sympathizing with anti-colonialism and the desire of all small people for self-determination, it is pretty difficult in this case for U. S. officials to lend full support to the Greeks and Cypriots who want to unite.

Consider all that the British have done to save Greece. The Greek king and his government in exile found a haven in Britain while the Nazis occupied the country.

Prime Minister Churchill took the lead in restoring the Greek government to power after the war.

But for British dollar aid, Greece would have gone behind the Iron Curtain 10 years ago.

When the British had spent all they could afford in this area, the job was turned over to the United States. Under U. S. military assistance, the Communist rebels were put down.

Under the Truman doctrine of 1948 and succeeding U. S. foreign aid programs, the U. S. has spent two and a half billion dollars in Greece. Figures on U. S. military aid to Greece are still classified, but economic aid is running around $5 million dollars a year.

Without it, Greece simply couldn't survive.

Modern Greece as an independent nation is therefore a fiction. If the U. S. and U. K. were to say in effect, "What's the use?" and pull out—as they might be justified in doing—Greece would go down the Communist drain.

The new British proposal for self-government of Cyprus, just announced in London, is considered to offer the best chance yet for settlement of the issue. The present Greek government is regarded in Washington as stable and able enough to make an agreement, if it just will.

Early settlement is regarded as essential because the present disturbed situation is blocking economic cooperation between Greek, Turkey and Yugoslavia in a Balkan pact.

Even if settlement should include some measure of eventual union between Cyprus and Greece, it is now recognized that this may not be entirely satisfactory to the Cypriots if they got it.

For united with Greece, the Cypriots would have to pay Greek taxes, have their men drafted into the Greek army and have their church leaders—instigators of the independence movement—brought under authority of the Greek Orthodox hierarchy in Athens.

Such a development might be even more distasteful than their present, protected irresponsibility under British sovereignty over the island military stronghold in the Mediterranean.

THOUGHTS

For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's—I Cor. 6:20.

And now my cross is all supported—Part on my Lord, and part on me; But as He is so much the stronger, He seems to bear it—I go free.

Too Little Sugar in Blood Creates Acute Reactions

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service
It is difficult to avoid being too technical in discussing a subject which both Mrs. J. S. and Mrs. H. P. have asked about.

In diabetes there is not enough of the hormone, insulin, manufactured by the pancreas to properly burn the sugar in the tissues. The attacks may last a few minutes, hours or even a few days. The symptoms of such attacks naturally vary from person to person but often include a feeling of hunger, paleness of the skin, "ringing" or "buzzing" in the head, sweating, nausea, a feeling of chilliness, and even fainting.

Too little sugar in the blood—hypoglycemia—is not rare. Its recognition should be credited to Dr. Seale Harris who wrote in 1924 "When I saw the insulin reaction in diabetic patients, I realized I had seen many patients (not taking insulin) who had complained of the same symptoms."

THE TERM "hyperinsulinism" or too much insulin, should be reserved for those patients who have a tumor affecting the glands producing insulin in the pancreas, or for those who have received an excessive injection of insulin.

Both of these will produce too little sugar in the blood. There are a number of people with a variety of symptoms in whom examination of the blood reveals insufficient sugar. The problem then is to determine the cause: Tumor in the pancreas, liver disease, or disturbance in other glands of internal secretion.

Of course, the immediate management of a severe attack is important and this frequently involves the administration of sugar, candy, orange juice, milk or the like.

In the person with mild functional hypoglycemia it is generally wise to cut down on the size of the regular meals and give small amounts of food in between. The diet generally involves a reduction in the quantities of sugar and an increase of those foods high in protein. Obviously self treatment would be most unwise.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The son of a famous father is in Hollywood to carve a name for himself.

Ronald Howard has arrived here for his first visit in 19 years. When he was last in the movie capital, he was the young son of the great English actor, Leslie Howard.

Now he is 38 and a well-known actor in his own right. But he admits that it is hard to shake the comparison with his father. "It is not so marked in England, where I have been working a good number of years," he explained. "There people accept me on my own."

"It is different in this country, where I am not as well known. After all, the memory of my father lingers here to a greater degree, because he spent the majority of his acting years in this country."

The comparison to his father is inescapable because of their amazing resemblance. Ronald has the same patrician handsomeness, the same blonde hair and polished manner of Leslie. His first Hollywood role might be said to begin when his late father left off.

Just about the last movie he did for the elder Howard was "Gone With the Wind," in which he played the Southerner, Ashley Wilkes. Ronald is playing a Southerner in his current film, "Drango."

"But it's an entirely different kind of character," he remarked. "The man I am playing is a Southern officer who won't admit the war is over. In his passion, he commits some irresponsible acts."

This is a far cry from the roles of his father, who never played heavies. His brilliant career was cut short during the war when he was shot down in a plane near Spain.

New England Clam Chowder

Just Right for Fourth

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
For that Fourth of July porch or backyard picnic, New England clam chowder is always hungrily welcomed. Here's a recipe we enjoyed in Connecticut last weekend. You'll like it. We made it in our new electric Dutch oven.

New England Clam Chowder (Yield: 6 servings)
One-quarter pound salt pork, diced, 1 large onion, thinly sliced, 3 medium sized potatoes, peeled and cubed, 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 quart clams, shucked and coarsely chopped, clam liquor, reserved from clams, strained and heated, 2 cups scalded milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon white pepper, 1 teaspoon ground mace or nutmeg, 1 tablespoon butter.

Set heat selector dial at 360 degrees F. and preheat electric Dutch oven. Add pork and try until golden brown and crisp. Remove and reserve. Reset heat selector dial at 250 degrees F. Add onions to pork fat in cooker. Cook, stirring frequently, until golden. Add potatoes and boiling water. Set heat selector dial at 220 degrees F. Cover and cook for 10 minutes. Add chopped clams and clam liquor for 30 minutes. Combine hot clam liquor with scalded milk and stir into clam mixture. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes. Add seasonings and butter. Garnish with fried salt pork and serve direct from the electric Dutch oven.

Beef kabobs are perfect picnic fare. Too cooking experts of the United States Department of Agriculture have this to say about them:

Stratton To Open Griggsville Fair This Friday

PITTSFIELD — This Friday will be the official opening day of the county fair season in Illinois, according to a proclamation of Governor William Stratton, who plans to be at the opening of the Western Illinois State Fair in Griggsville on that day, where he will cut a ribbon opening the season in the entire state.

A big feature of the first day of the fair will be a mammoth parade starting at Pittsfield at 4 p.m. DST. The Pittsfield Chamber of Commerce is supporting this parade by urging business firms enter floats in the parade, and the community to enter their c. s. and also requesting business firms who can do so to close at 3:30 in order that they and their employees can participate in the parade.

Several hundred units have been assured, with Governor Stratton leading the parade.
Vincent Zimmerman, chairman of the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Darold Sinclair will be in charge of the lineup in the streets of Pittsfield. Richard Frazier, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is in general charge of the event.

Bob Skinner, secretary, and other officials of the fair are working diligently for their fair program, which will present many more features than ever before.

BETSY LOU ROBBINS

A graduate this past May from the Winchester high school, Betsy Lou Robbins, 18 year old foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neff of Winchester route one, left Jacksonville Monday for St. Louis where on Tuesday she will undergo her physical exam for the WAC.

Betsy Lou was somewhat surprised at the swiftness with which the recruiting office operated. She had planned on being around on July 15 when her twin sister, Patsy Sue, will be married to Herbert Brown of Winchester.

Miss Robbins expects to be sent to Fort McClellan, Ala. and after her six weeks basic training will start nurses training.

Ag Revolution In Progress, Says Seed Group Head

CHICAGO (AP)—The president of the American Seed Trade Assn. today told members of the association that a revolution is taking place in agriculture.

J. R. Huey, general manager and research director of the Moews Seed Co., Granville, Ill., said the seed industry must recognize the economic, social and scientific changes of agriculture as matters of direct concern.

Huey said that the decreasing farm population, the economic position of the farmer and the trend to larger sized, "cooperative" farms must be analyzed carefully.

"Who will be our customer on the soil 10 years hence?" Huey asked. "Could it be that he will possess a working knowledge of scientific agriculture which comparatively few have today?"

Huey urged the association's members to support basic research, especially to find new uses for crops.

He addressed the opening session of the association's meeting in Chicago.

AMSTERDAM (AP)—Smiling pictures of the Dutch royal couple blossomed on the front pages of Holland's newspapers today. But in West Germany, Hamburg's Der Spiegel came up with a new report of domestic trouble between Queen Juliana and her husband, Prince Bernhard.

The Hamburg magazine said Bernhard may leave the Dutch court unless it is friendlier to his mother, German Princess Aemilie, Zur Lippe-Biesterfeld. The magazine claimed the princess had not been "too well-received" in the past.

Der Spiegel said Bernhard would move to his mother's home unless she is invited to the garden party the court traditionally gives on June 29 to celebrate his birthday. The magazine added that Crown Princess Beatrix, 18-year-old eldest daughter of Juliana and Bernhard, and 17-year-old Princess Irene would join their father in his exodus.

Der Spiegel made first publication of the report that the influence of a 61-year-old faith healer, Miss Greet Hofmans, over Queen Juliana had caused a rift between the monarch and her husband. The Dutch government subsequently denied that there was any possibility of a break.

The Queen and her husband yesterday made their first public appearance since the publication of the rift rumors. Accompanied by Princess Irene and 13-year-old Princess Margriet, they attended a sports festival at Olympic Stadium to raise funds for the Dutch Olympic team.

The couple left by train Sunday night for New York, where Daniel is assistant foreign editor of the New York Times.

LOOK, NO LAKE!

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Rainy Lake in Presque Isle County does a disappearing act, almost as if somebody had pulled its plug.

At intervals the lake in north-eastern Michigan nearly disappears through an underground channel, like bath water down a drain.

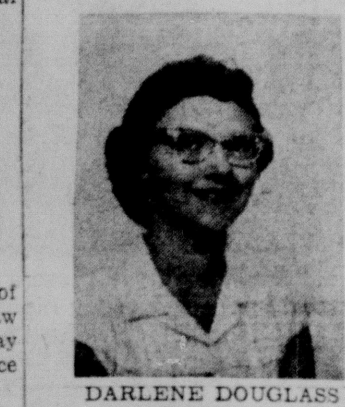

Geologists say the water seeps down into an underground limestone cavern. The lake fills up again when mud and silt accumulate to plug crevices in its bed.

IT'S BETTER TO GIVE

RUPERT, Idaho (AP)—Officers of the Pershing School PTA say it'll be a long time before they again try the "circulating basket" project as a means of raising contributions.

The PTA put three baskets into circulation with instructions that they be passed along from person to person, collecting food and money for the school.

Only one thing went wrong with the plan—all three baskets are missing.

Wrought iron, brass and aluminum appear in the structural parts as well as the decoration of new home furnishings.

What's New in Getaway? Try a '56 Buick and See!

Buick SUPER 6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera

You've probably heard us say a lot, recently, about the 1956 Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

And maybe you've wondered just what that "new" means.

Well, it means a brand-new principle in transmission design that the engineers call "double regeneration." A new way to make whirling oil add to its own velocity. A new way to produce fast torque build-up at only part throttle.

What does it do for you?

It gives you a quick new getaway response right in the first inch of pedal travel—right where you do most of your normal driving—and right where you get better gas mileage every inch of the way.

It gives you more safety-surge breakaway when you floor the pedal and switch the pitch—more electrifying full-power acceleration to pull out of a tight spot.

And it gives you all this with absolute smoothness—whether you're in stop-and-go traffic, or in a highway emergency—because no gears ever shift in Dynaflo.

But if you think this great new getaway is the only reason for Buick's strong position in the Top 3 of America's best sellers—listen:

In every 1956 Buick there's newness from end to end.

New 322-cubic-inch V8 engines. New brakes, new frame, new rear end. A new deep-oil cushioned ride. New "sense of direction" tracking steadiness. New steering linkage and front-end geometry. New handling ease, new quiet, new comfort, new safety. New carburetor "deicing." New exhaust manifolding. New interlocking safety door latches. New Safety-Aim headlamps. New features everywhere you look—including new styling and beauty inside and out.

What it all adds up to is the Best Buick Yet, by far. And we cordially invite you to come see and sample all the new thrills a '56 Buick has in store for you.

You'll find them packaged in a price that makes any model you choose your smartest buy yet. Can you make it this week?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Handsome Duke Of Kent Is Being Talked About

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON, June 23 (U.P.)—A senior officer at Britain's Royal Military Academy added discreetly in the direction of the gangling young Duke of Kent.

"If he weren't a duke," said the officer, "he'd be a good mechanic."

"Pardon me, sir," spoke up a Cockney sergeant with a greasy-smearing face. "He is a good mechanic."

His Royal Highness Prince Edward George Nicholas Paul Patrick, second Duke of Kent and seventh in succession to the throne has a passion for machines that fly through the air and race along the ground.

"Like father like son," mused an old servant who'd watched the young man grow up. "You might o' thought he'd hate machines, remembering what happened to his father."

The tragic death of the first duke is still fresh in the memories of the royal family. Fourteen years ago his life was snuffed out in a Sunderland flying boat when it plowed into the side of a mist-covered Scottish mountain.

The boy was almost 7 then and by that time his father had filled his chubby hands with mechanical gadgets and cluttered his nursery with toy airplanes and automobiles.

He'd taught him to love the rhythm of great machines, principally he'd taught him the exhilarating thrill of flying along the ground with the wind in his face.

Some of the now 20-year-old duke's friends say that his love of speed and motion has made him restless and is driving him on a merry round of debutante parties that have put His Royal Highness in the headlines.

A Laborite member of Parliament even delivered an oblique attack on the duke by denouncing two parties His Royal Highness attended in one night as wild flings of hooliganism.

What happened at the parties? Two young guardsmen who, with the duke, joined 150 fluttering debs on a Thames riverboat, jumped into the river. The duke threw them life belts while other members of the party pitched champagne glasses into the water.

The boat was set adrift in a river usually busy with commercial traffic. Somebody else turned on a hose on a squad of river policemen.

From that hi-links the duke raced to another gathering of debutantes in Mayfair where there seemed to be such an abundance of French champagne that the young things started pouring it in to the street.

Slowly but surely His Royal Highness has been getting himself talked about—and not for the books he reads, or his above-average record as a young soldier and now officer in the Royal Scots' Greys.

The duke really began crowding into the headlines when he received his first driving license at the age of 17. In his first, a station wagon, he collided with another car. Both automobiles were badly damaged and so was His Royal Highness.

The duke's mother then bought him a sports car costing $3,000. But the duke made a tin can out of this one too when he piled into a fallen tree near Wokingham.

His next car was a sports model with red leather upholstery.

Last summer the duke drove this one off the road and almost killed himself when he was hurrying back to the Royal Military College from one of those debutante parties about 5 o'clock in the morning.

Into the hospital he went again. After his third crash the duke's mother grounded him for a while. What's the duke like physically?

He's six feet tall with wavy brown hair and those same dreamy eyes of Princess Margaret. He would be a very handsome young man were it not for a slightly receding chin and almost pouting lower lip.

His father left about $439,600. He is said to be a beneficiary from a trust fund reported to be $5,600,000 set up by the late Queen Mary.

Home Bureau Activities

The Arnold unit of Morgan-Scott Home Bureau met June 20 at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Merrill Sargeant. The meeting opened with the vice chairman, Mrs. Milton Birdsell, presiding. Miss Hazel Graves, home adviser, gave the major lesson on "Becoming Fabrics Design."

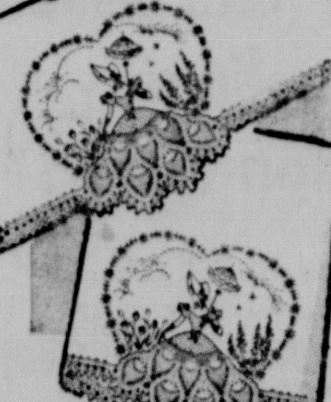

Ten members and one associate member answered roll call with "Where I Would Like to Spend My Vacation." One new member, Mrs. Gary Curtis, has been added to the roll.

During the business meeting Miss Graves told about the citizenship conference held June 12-15 at MacMurray College, and announced that the Morgan-Scott Home Bureau was on the honor roll for having retained ninety percent membership for the last year. Total membership is now five hundred and fifty-two.

For the selected subject Mrs. T. B. Ranson presented a program of slides. The next meeting will be held July 11 at 2:30 p.m. at the Congregational church, as the unit is sponsoring the 4-H girls of South Jacksonville. They will supply the program, with Mrs. James Baxter as hostess. The meeting adjourned at 4:15 with the hostess serving delicious refreshments during the social hour.

SWAN'S DOWN'S SOFTER THAN WATER—"Junior" rides a cozy wing position while more venturesome members of the cygnet brood dive-bomb for vegetation in Lake Eola at Orlando, Fla. Design Little Gadget For Drinker To Learn When He's Had Enough

TORONTO — Two Toronto doctors have designed a pocket-size cardboard computer for drinkers who can't tell when they've had enough.

The scale on the computer, called an "alcoholial," ranges from convivial to carefree and unconscious.

With a swirl of a center dial and a few simple arithmetic calculations, a drinker can tell whether he can safely have a final "one for the road" or should settle for a cup of coffee.

Dr. R. Gordon Bell says he and Dr. K. W. Ferguson of Connaught Laboratories at the University of Toronto developed the gadget primarily as a gimmick to interest individuals in the problems of alcoholism.

But in addition to its long-term value, Dr. Bell says, the alcoholial can cope with more immediate problems including drunken driving and the morning-after hangover.

The device was kept simple because people with a few drinks under their belts are not inclined to solve intricate mathematical problems.

The alcoholial consists of a rotating disc with an arrow that is turned to point on a scale the number of drinks consumed. For simplicity "one drink" is considered a 12-ounce bottle of beer or 1 1/2 ounces of liquor.

A scale on the lower half of the dial is calibrated in body weights. Opposite these are figures from 30 to 350.

From the figure opposite an individual's weight, 15 is subtracted for every hour since drinking started. The resulting figure is the alcoholic content of the blood in milligrams per gram.

To make it even simpler, Dr. Bell said, the card is marked in three sections green, yellow and red. If a drinker's alcoholial rating is in the green, he can keep on; the yellow band indicates caution is needed. If a drinker is in the red, he should keep away from cars and drinks for awhile.

Dr. Bell, who is head of an institution which treats many alcoholics, says that from the long-term point of view a person who consistently drinks into the red, or repeatedly sags at the knees while in the yellow range, is in danger of becoming an alcoholic. Estimates made on the dial have little meaning until a person has been drinking for more than an hour. Maximum accuracy is obtained after two or three hours' drinking.

Drs. Bell and Ferguson have had about 1,000 of the alcoholials printed. They sell for $1. Police, insurance companies, health groups and automobile associations have expressed interest in the device. The Ontario Motor League is reported to be considering using the alcoholials in a campaign to reduce Christmas and New Year's drinking among its members.

Shell Premium with TCP outclasses competitive premium gasolines in full-throttle acceleration test!

The 200-plus h.p. car being tested (left) was first run 3,000 miles on a competitive premium gasoline. The rate of acceleration was checked by radar. Its performance was below par, due to harmful engine deposits that caused spark plug "miss."

The same car after a few tankfuls of Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP* showed faster acceleration when checked by radar (right). Because TCP neutralizes harmful deposits, most cars tested showed a 6 to 18% acceleration improvement.

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP additive gets back lost power that even the most careful driver sometimes needs for safety.

Mystery Of Missing Frogman Gets New Twist From Letter

PARIS (AP)—A mysterious new twist in the case of missing British frogman Lionel Crabb turned up Friday with disclosure by a titled Briton that Crabb had written him on the day he disappeared.

Crabb disappeared April 19, presumably while diving in Portsmouth near the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze which had brought Nikita Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin on their official visit to Britain.

Sir Francis Rose, who has made his home in Paris for a number of years, told a reporter the cryptic letter he received from Crabb said: "I'll be in clover the first of the month. I've sold my invention."

The letter, Sir Francis said, was postmarked Portsmouth and dated the day Crabb dropped from sight. Sir Francis had written Crabb, who he said was an old friend, to ask for payment of a loan of 20 pounds.

Since receiving the letter, Sir Francis said, these inexplicable events have occurred:

1. After news of Crabb's disappearance was published, Sir Francis looked through his files to find the letter and turn it over to authorities, but the letter was gone. Sir Francis reported the loss to French police and to the British Embassy in Paris.
2. A mutual friend in the British Admiralty appeared in Paris with a check he said represented the debt Crabb owed Sir Francis. The friend expressed the opinion

—without substantiation—that Crabb was still alive.

3. On May 12, Sir Francis' son, Luis, 24, a Spanish citizen, was imprisoned by the French when he sought to have his visa renewed. Sir Francis said he has attempted, through a French lawyer and through the Spanish ambassador, to determine why Luis has been imprisoned. The only thing he has been able to learn, Sir Francis said, is that Luis is being held for breach of trust.

4. High French Communist officials have contacted Sir Francis, and have attempted without success to learn from him details of what has transpired since he received the Crabb letter.

5. Sir Francis said he received a recent letter from Luis, now held in St. Quentin Prison. Most of the letter was obliterated, but one sentence was legible: "Papa, please tell them everything you know."

The Crabb case, so far as is publicly known, has never been cleared up. British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden said in Parliament May 9 that no minister had authorized the frogman's activities and that disciplinary action was being taken. On May 29, the speaker of the House of Commons refused to allow further questions about the case.

Michigan State's intramural athletic program annually includes more than 6,500 students in 27 activities.

Congregational Church Approves Unique Merger

By GEORGE CORNELL

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—A new vista was opened today before Congregational Christians as they surveyed their home-missions landscape, its borders to be widened in a new "United Church of Christ."

As delegates heard reports on the church's schools, colleges, hospitals, race-relations projects and other affairs, attention centered on possibilities ahead in the bigger, combined church.

By an overwhelming vote of 1-310 to 179, the council Saturday gave final approval to plans for the merger with the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the first union of its kind in this country.

"It is a demonstration of a new dimension of church unity," said Dr. Fred Hoskins, of Oak Park, Ill., newly-elected "minister" of Congregational Christians, their chief administrative officer.

Dr. James E. Wagner, of Philadelphia, president of the E. and R. Church, here to appear before the council this week, said the union would mean an "enrichening and strengthening" of both churches.

Final approval of the union came in an emotion-packed swirl both of enthusiasm and apprehensions. Opponents fought the plan down to the last, voicing fears that traditional church freedoms would be lost.

The Rev. Malcolm Burton, of Pontiac, Mich., leader of an anti-merger faction, said of the result: "The palace guard and the denominational camp followers may hold their part together, but out in the grass roots, it's a different story."

He said his group had no "definite plans" for any further legal action to try to stop the merger, but that such a move could develop in the future.

"To try to unite free churches with a single national church with an authoritarian system is crazy," he said. He added he'd also oppose any union with such churches as Methodists, Episcopalians or Presbyterians.

The council's action set June 1957, in Cleveland for the founding convocation of the new church.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By JIMMY BRESLIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
Pinch-hitting for Harry Grayson

NEW YORK (NEA)—When Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' thin thumper, was in the Negro leagues, he got into the habit of never swinging at the first pitch.

Banks now is in his third full season as a major leaguer, a top player in a game where fractions of an inch are fought over and where every little item is grabbed in the endless search for an edge on the other guy.

Yet Banks still steps into the box and remains motionless as that first pitch comes toward him. There isn't a National League pitcher who doesn't know this. When Banks is up, they try and pour that first one right down the pipe. Catch the plate and you're one-up. Banks won't swing.

This would seem, on paper, to be a sandlotish fault. The fact that it still is in Banks' repertoire makes it a felony against baseball, you'd think. Ty Cobb or Rogers Hornsby would have a few choice words on this flaw and today's major league ballplayer in general.

If Banks were playing 1929—or even 1939—type baseball, there would be reason to utter negative phrases on Banks and his playmates. The calendar, however, tells us that the year is 1956 and you let Banks take the first pitch for just as long as he pleases.

Banks hits home runs. He snapped his wrists and shot 40 balls out of the playing area last year. This season, he is off to his usual slow start, but indications are that he will be close or thereabouts to that 40 figure when the season ends.

This constitutes the cashier's window on the subject. The fine points of the game, those delicious bits of strategy the old-timers made their living on, have been discarded, along with roll-your-own tobacco, 2-1 final scores and 30-mile speed limits. The hit-and-run play, to illustrate, is something you see only now and then. A stolen base? Who steals when the next guy up can hit one out of the park?

Today, they hit the long ball. They go for it on every pitch, it seems. That's why a smart baseball man, like Stan Hack, the Cubs' manager, won't open his mouth about Banks' flaw.

"If he likes to take the first pitch, that's okay with me," Hack says. "I wouldn't dare change his style. He has too much natural ability."

Banks thought they would change him when he reached the majors. "I got into the habit early and I thought I'd better get out of it when I came to the Cubs," he says. "But nobody said a word. And I feel comfortable doing it. So I just keep taking."

It is the same everywhere. What manager would dare to order Mickey Mantle to hit behind the runner? Men have been out of jobs for things like that.

Hank Greenberg, the Cleveland general manager, points this out. "Everybody hits homers today because everybody tries for them," he says.

"The ball or the bat isn't making the home runs today. It's the attitude. And don't tell me it's the pitching. When I played, every pitcher had a good curve and a fast ball. Take Red Ruffing and Lefty Gomez of the Yankees. That's all they had."

"Today the pitchers have that slider, a big pitch. They're better equipped. Today's pitching is the best it ever has been. But all batters go for the big one. Even your six, seven and eight men. That's why you see so many of them."

So Banks will still take that first pitch. And nobody will really care. Not as long as he can reach the seats. Because it's 1956, not 1936.

Comisky And Chisox Fulfills Lanes' Dream; Massacre Of Yanks

By JERRY LISK

CHICAGO (AP)—Much to the bitter chagrin of the New York Yankees, White Sox Vice President Chuck Comisky learned his lessons only two weeks from his erstwhile tutor, "Frankie" Frank Lane.

In his own quiet way, Comisky has engineered deals this year—his first as real White Sox boss—which have accomplished what a Yankee-hater Lane, as a wild-trading Sox general manager, always dreamed of doing: A home massacre of the proud New Yorkers.

If you ask Sox Manager Marion why his club has sputtered so amazingly to within one game of the suddenly jolted Yankees, he tosses out three names—pitcher Jim Wilson, third sacker Fred Hatfield and outfielder Dave Philley. These are players Comisky acquired last month.

And young Chuck, grandson of "Old Roman" Comiskey, also engineered one of the big deals last winter, outfielder Larry Doby from the Cleveland Indians for shortstop Chico Carrasquel and outfielder Jim Busby.

It was a gamble for long-ball help and many thought Chuck gave away too much. But he certainly was vindicated Sunday as Doby, more or less a bust since spring training, blasted two three-run homers to start a double Yankee downfall which wrapped a four-game Sox sweep over Casey Stengel's befuddled stalwarts.

Behind the Doby deal was another big risk—would rookie Luis Aparicio fill the big defensive shoes of Carrasquel? He has done it so well he may be the American League rookie-of-the-year.

"So it was a 'new faces' cast which humiliated Stengel, Mantle, Berra & Co. last weekend to give the White Sox the longest winning streak in the league this season, eight straight."

Stengel blamed himself for last Friday night's 5-4 defeat in 12 innings because he underrated "a third rater," Sammy Esposito, who won the game with a bases hit single.

Saturday, the brilliant Wilson hurled a four-hitter to beat the Yankees, but actually it might have been the fiery spirit of Philley which made the difference.

Hit by Bob Grim with a pitched ball, Philley charged the Yankee pitcher on the mound like a wounded tiger. Neither came close to swinging an effective punch. But Grim undoubtedly was upset and gave up both runs that same inning for a 2-0 loss.

Philley was fined $250 for the tantrum. He also was fined $100 for a ball-and-strike debate. That's the meanest the Sox ever appeared against the Yankees.

Wilson unquestionably has been the big wheel in the Sox drive. Since he came to the Sox from the Baltimore Orioles in a six-player deal May 21, Wilson has pitched at a 6-1 clip—an important half-dozen victories in 26 days.

An unsung newcomer, Hatfield has been a fine performer at third base, long a defensive sore spot with the Sox, especially with former Chicagoan, George Kell in various degrees of health.

Basketball captain Ron Judson and baseball captain-elect Larry Blades will be forwards on Dartmouth's 1955-56 basketball team.

Florence Blanks Acco; Winchester Smothers A Club

Florence and Winchester copped IRV League wins yesterday to remain tied for second place in the IRV League standings. The Jacksonville Merchants cancelled their game with Beardsdown Sunday afternoon because of their clash with the University of Illinois that night. The Merchants are in first place in league standings, they are undefeated.

Florence handed Acco Foods a 5-0 loss on Reg Hankins' five-hitter. Cleo Pressey and Hankins paced Florence's 10-hit attack with three hits apiece in four appearances.

Winchester white-washed the Athletic Club of Jacksonville 17-0. Don Gregory tolled for Winchester and threw three-hit ball, while his teammates rapped Allen for 14 base knocks. Brockhouse was Winchester's big stick with three safeties.

Courtney's Homer Gives Nats 5-3 Win Over Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Clint Courtney's two-run pinch homer in the eighth gave the Washington Nationals a 5-3 victory over Detroit Monday and sent the Tigers reeling to their ninth straight defeat.

Washington Manager Charlie Dressen went against the book in sending up Courtney, a left-handed hitter, to bat against southpaw Billy Hoelt. But the little catcher sent Hoelt's first offering into the lower right field deck and scored behind Eddie Fitzgerald, who had reached base on a single.

Righthander Camillo Pascual recorded his third triumph of the season. He has lost seven. Dean Stone pitched the last two innings after Pascual was lifted for pinch hitter Courtney.

The Tigers' losing streak is the longest in the American League this season.

It was an uphill battle all the way for the Senators, who spotted the Tigers three runs in the fourth inning.

Braves Score Three In Ninth To Beat Phils 8-5 For 11th Straight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves powered their way past the Philadelphia Phillies for their 11th straight triumph 8-5, Monday night at Connie Mack Stadium on the booming bats of Eddie Mathews and Bobby Thomson.

But Milwaukee came back with a ninth inning rally that opened with a double by Johnny Logan followed by a pair of clutch hits bunts back to back by Andy Pafko and Del Crandall, the latter a perfect square play that scored Logan with the winning run.

Harvey Haddix, who replaced starter Stu Miller after Logan's double, walked the dangerous Mathews who had homered earlier. Hank Aaron then lifted a sacrifice fly to right, Pafko scoring after the catch. Then Thomson, who had four for four including a homer, singled in the third run.

TURNABOUT—State Democratic Committee in Kentucky has nominated former Gov. Lawrence Wetherby to run in November for the remaining four-year term of the late Sen. Alben W. Barkley. Nomination is tacit disapproval of Gov. A. B. Chandler's interim appointment of Joseph J. Leary to fill the vacancy until the November elections. Wetherby has been allied with Sen. Earle C. Clements (D-Ky.), who has been engaged in a factional scrap with Governor Chandler.

FRANK UDE entered the cook shack just before dawn. "We'll start inside an hour. They can't stop us," he said.

That brought a pleased look to Jean's face and he wondered what she would do if he kissed her. She flushed under his steady appraisal and turned to her cookstove.

"Swede will be coming to help us," she said. "I expect Doc and Juan Lopez, maybe Hyman too. Ricket says he's riding along. Maybe you'll let him drive the wagon. He promised to stay in bed till Doc gets here."

"He and Tod can take the wagon," Frank agreed.

Presently she brought him his breakfast. After he had finished his plate she still stood pensively behind his chair. "I am glad you're sensible about one thing, Frank. I'd hate to argue with you about being left behind—there's no sound reason for it."

He rose from his chair, sliding it slowly beneath the table. Still she stood watching. He lifted his glance and met her head-on look.

His encircling arms brought her solidly against his chest. Now she tilted her head backwards against his arm, smiling with her lips. He bent forward meeting her mouth. A soft, low sigh ran from her throat.

She drew away from him. Her fingers still pressed lightly against his chest, her eyes sparkling. "I have paid my way," she said slowly. "Now I can ride along to McHenry with my horse. I don't owe you anything."

Dr. George La Tour came riding up to the ranch house on a shaggy mare, with his cowhide medicine case strapped to his saddle. He'd had a rough night, starting with the amputation of Yates's arm. Frank spoke:

"JEAN carried her scanty possessions to the wagon. They were mighty few. The fire last night had left her threadbare except for the riding clothes she wore and a few blouses that had been on a washline."

She heard Frank stirring alongside the bunkhouse and came over to him. She avoided looking directly at him but her hand crept into his and her fingers pressed tightly.

When the silence drew out she spoke: "It might not be as hopeless as it looks. Maybe when we get to the Skull badlands I'll have something to suggest."

"If you've got some plan you'd better tell it now."

She was silent, a deep concentration putting a tautness in her face. Then she shook her head. "No, too much gamble, Frank. We better not."

PRISCILLA'S POP

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

ALMOST A HOT DOG

CHICAGO—Little Joe, a pup, almost became a hot dog when he disappeared during a cage-baking episode in the Lawrence Egness household.

A search until 2 a.m. the next day failed to locate him until Mrs. Egness heard a whimpering in the kitchen and opened the oven door. There was Little Joe, a bit unnerved but otherwise okay.

A bit of ham or chicken leftover? Dice fine and add it to the filling for stuffed eggs.

and a few blouses that had been on a washline."

She heard Frank stirring alongside the bunkhouse and came over to him. She avoided looking directly at him but her hand crept into his and her fingers pressed tightly.

When the silence drew out she spoke: "It might not be as hopeless as it looks. Maybe when we get to the Skull badlands I'll have something to suggest."

"If you've got some plan you'd better tell it now."

She was silent, a deep concentration putting a tautness in her face. Then she shook her head. "No, too much gamble, Frank. We better not."

SWED rode into the graying yard topped a hammer head down. The cook, Juan Lopez, rode loosely slacked in his Mexican saddle. The black haired musician Hyman rode a big grulla. His face wore a mask intended to cover the misery Frank knew was boiling inside. He carried a Confederate Officer's pistol in his belt and a violin case was strapped to his back. Each man rode to the wagon, dropping in the extra supplies he carried. When they were finished they reined about Frank. Hyman still carried the violin case.

"Here's Tod and Ricket," Jean said abruptly. "We're ready!"

Alex Jacobs had brought in the string and was leading Jean's saddled bay and Frank's chestnut. Frank motioned Swenson over to the string while Alex brought up their mounts. Hyman knelt his horse beside Swede.

The pain had mostly left Juan's burns and he continued to sit with him, awaiting his orders. Frank was grateful for this outfit that was volunteering for a trail that held only bloodshed. He smiled frankly at Juan. "Good to know we'll have a cook."

Lopez flashed his teeth, his bandaged fingers patting the stock of an old sheathed cavalry carbine. "Senior Frank! I can do much more than cook!" Frank knew then he had a ringy crew.

Two Cars, Truck Damaged In Crash Near Alexander

Three vehicles sustained damage, but no persons were injured, early Sunday morning in a pair of related accidents on U. S. route 36-54 about a quarter mile west of Alexander.

Near 12:50 a.m., a 1950 Ford pickup truck driven by Donald Kindred, 24, of Alexander struck the rear of an automobile driven by Darwin Day, 53, of 815 Hardin avenue, Jacksonville.

The truck spun off the pavement and stopped on the north shoulder of the road; the auto remained on the pavement.

A half-hour later, about 1:20 a.m., persons who were directing traffic at the accident site waved a truck past.

A 1953 Pontiac driven by Milford Frazier, 35, of 418 East Monroe street, Springfield, struck the rear of the second truck. The truck was undamaged.

State policemen Charles Bailey and Reginald Fulk, present at the scene of the accident, ticketed both Kindred and Frazier on charges of driving too fast for road conditions, causing accidents.

Kindred appeared Monday morning in the court of justice of the peace Charles K. Wagon, entered a plea of guilty, and paid a fine of $25 and costs.

5-Year Effort Gains Permit To Leave Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—Charles Sydney Miner, an American businessman who waited in Shanghai more than five years for a permit to get out of Red China, left for the United States by air today.

Miner arrived in Hong Kong May 19. He had lived in Shanghai for seven years. After the Communist takeover, he became representative for the American-owned Shanghai Post and Evening Mercury, and insurance magnate C. V. Starr.

He was neither imprisoned nor badly treated, Miner said, but his exit permit was withheld. Earlier this year, he signed contracts with the Communist government to close the businesses he represented. Soon afterward the Reds issued the permit for which he had applied in November 1950.

Miner expects to arrive in New York July 14. His home formerly was in Washington, D.C.

Miner's wife, Maria, a Chinese girl he married while in Shanghai, accompanied him.

U. S. Commies State Right To Rap Red Comrades

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Communist party says it has the "right and duty" to engage in "friendly criticism" of Red comrades in the Soviet Union and other countries.

The party Sunday declared a degree of independence from Moscow's domination. The American Communists also said they couldn't go along with Nikita S. Khrushchev's charges that Stalin was 100 per cent to blame for the excesses of his regime.

Communist parties in Italy, France and Britain have also taken more independent public positions toward Moscow in recent weeks.

The National Committee of the Communist party of the U. S. is sued a statement after meeting at an undisclosed place in New York City.

The committee described the party as "an independent Marxist party of American workers dedicated to socialism." Teen-Agers Operate Mythical State; Tour Springfield Tuesday

A week of campaigns and elections behind them, Illini Girls State's 466 teen-age "citizens" Monday devoted the day to operating the mythical "49th state" they've organized.

Activities of the day included two sessions of the bicameral Girls State legislature, classes in speech and parliamentary procedure, sessions of county courts, a shopping tour in Jacksonville and a final quiz on state government.

Monday evening the girls witnessed a demonstration of a court session and heard briefing on Tuesday's trip to Springfield at an assembly in Annie Merner Chapel on the MacMurray College campus.

At the end of this assembly, the girls adjourned to MacMurray's music hall for the annual "talent night," at which various delegates demonstrated their talents in singing, dancing and playing musical instruments.

The party Sunday declared a degree of independence from Moscow's domination. The American Communists also said they couldn't go along with Nikita S. Khrushchev's charges that Stalin was 100 per cent to blame for the excesses of his regime.

Communist parties in Italy, France and Britain have also taken more independent public positions toward Moscow in recent weeks.

The National Committee of the Communist party of the U. S. is sued a statement after meeting at an undisclosed place in New York City.

The committee described the party as "an independent Marxist party of American workers dedicated to socialism." The party's relations with Communists in other nations must be based on equality and the "right and duty of all countries to engage in friendly criticism of the theory of practice of the Marxists of any country . . . it said.

At that session, several elective state officials will bring their greetings to the group.

"On Their Own"

For an hour before lunch in Washington Park, the girls will be "on their own" for shopping and visiting points of interest in the vicinity of the capitol building.

Early in the afternoon, the girls will visit the governor's mansion, then proceed to Lincoln's home and tomb. Girls State officials will place a wreath on the tomb.

At Tuesday evening's final assembly, back in Annie Merner Chapel here, awards will be presented to outstanding Girl State "citizens" of the year.

Then the girls will pack in preparation for leaving Wednesday morning for homes throughout Illinois.

Many Visitors

Sunday, visitors' day at Illini Girls State, attracted a record number of parents and friends of delegates to the MacMurray campus.

Speakers before a Sunday afternoon assembly included two Illinois legislators, Warren Billhartz of New Baden and Paul Simond of Troy.

An alumni meeting and a reception in the social rooms of Main Hall were other Sunday features.

Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary's Department of Illinois, Illini Girls State each summer brings to Jacksonville more than 400 selected high school girls, who in a week-long stay at MacMurray learn the principles of state and local government by setting up and operating a mock state.

Harriman Gets Strings-Attached Boost From Happy

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Averell Harriman got a strings-attached boost from Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky Monday as he and supporters of Adlai E. Stevenson skirmished backstage to line up Democratic governors behind their presidential campaigns.

While nursing presidential hopes himself, Chandler made it apparent at a news conference that he was ready toicker with Harriman about second place on the party ticket and the 300,000 votes Kentucky will toss into the pot at the Democratic National Convention in August.

And, in a whirl of political developments around the edges of the 48th annual conference of the nation's governors:

1. Gov. Phil N. Donnelly of Missouri trumpeted a note of discouragement in the direction of the Harriman camp with word he believes former President Harry S. Truman will be unable to control the state's delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

2. Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee was engaged in a round of political maneuvers that could knock some of the main props out from under the remaining hopes of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee to capture the presidential nomination.

3. The number of Democratic governors who think their party will have a real battle to capture their states in November against President Eisenhower grew to five.

4. Third party talk, involving the segregation and civil rights issue, got some thumbs down treatment from Dixie.

5. Ribicoff disclosed he plans to do what he can for the Stevenson cause here at the governors' conference.

6. Mrs. Ruth Howard, the woman's mother, told officers her daughter had filed suit for divorce recently.

Both had been shot in the stomach from close range with a shotgun.

GIVES 55 OF 179 NURSING HOMES CLEAN HEALTH BILL

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, chief Chicago medical officer, Monday gave 55 of 179 city nursing homes a clean bill of health.

"The vast majority of the 179 homes are doing a good job," Bundesen told a special committee, formed by State's Atty. John E. Gutmacht in the wake of a grand jury investigation into nursing homes operation.

Only 164 homes have licenses while 11 other expect to get licenses, Bundesen said. The remaining four homes, Bundesen added, are licensed by the state and "don't have to be licensed by the city."

Since the grand jury investigation, four homes have gone out of business. Another nine are expected to follow suit, the medical officer also said. The jury investigation concerned allegedly improper handling and care of elderly persons in the homes.
